The Digital Dichotomy: Finance is at the center of helping the organization balance the macroeconomic "Slowdown" with the "Big Hurry" to innovate

The "Slowdown"

- Enterprises are facing multiple macroeconomic headwinds and challenges assaulting their strategic goals.
- IT budgets are tightening.
- The talent crunch will not improve unless we find a hidden continent under the ocean!

Both things are true

The "Big Hurry"

- Digital is Horizon 1. It is essential for survival.
- Enterprises realize the dire need to achieve their "OneOffice"
- Horizon 3, driven by "OneEcosystem", unfolds right before our eyes.

Only 12% of finance organizations have realized their ambitions around cost, control, business outcomes, and influence

Polling question and response: Is the concept of Global Business Services (GBS) more important or less important today compared to 3-4 years ago to drive finance transformation?

Source: HFS Horizons Summit-London, 2023

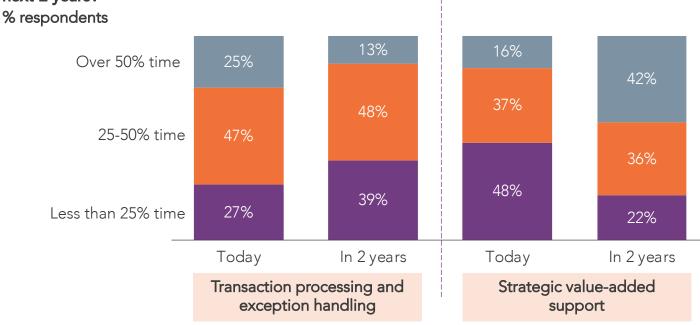

GBS is a term for centralized service delivery models that encompass shared services (captives), outsourcing, and centers of excellence (COEs) to serve multiple business units. Scope can include finance, IT, HR, and procurement, as well as other functions, and can be delivered onshore or offshore.

"Working here is a lot more fun since we started outsourcing our stress!"
